

Gathering and Separating

True believers know they are sons and daughters of the King. False believers pretend to be. Scripture shows when they will be revealed.

The Judgments	Wheat and Tares	Good Fish and Bad Fish	Wedding Guests and Crashers	Wise Virgins and Foolish Virgins	Good Slaves and Wicked Slaves	Sheep and Goats
Matt 13:24-30, 36-43	All those in this harvest are reaped at the same time	All fish are caught at the same time	All attendees are evaluated at the same time	All virgins left to see the Bridegroom at the same time	All those with accounts are settled at the same time	All those in the flocks are brought at the same time
Matt 13:47-52
Matt 22:1-14
Matt 25:1-13
Matt 25:14-30
Matt 25:31-46
Jesus gathers and separates - the false are removed from the true believers	Tares are removed from the wheat as the entire crop is brought in from the field together	Bad fish are sorted and removed from the good fish as they are all brought in together	Wedding crashers are removed from the reception upon being discovered	Presumptuously foolish virgins aren't known by the Bridegroom and are locked out	Wicked ones are removed from the faithful as accounts reveal spiritual hoarding	Imposters are removed from the righteous after arguing about their judgment

At the end of this age, when Jesus comes to receive His bride, He will first separate the flock. This is when the righteous will go in to the Wedding Supper and on to receive rewards, honor and glory, but pretenders and impostors will be judged and removed.

Scripture shows that there will be some who will try to be included with true believers by some means of association. They will not be evaluated, but removed. This removal is administered by Jesus. These wicked impostors will receive eternal punishment.

Tares know they are not wheat. Bad fish know they are not good fish. Wedding crashers know they are not on the guest list. The presumptuously foolish who aren't serious wrongly assume they will be known by Jesus. Wicked ones know they are not the same as the righteous. Impostors know they are not the same as the true believers.
